

The Fahrenheit211 British Neville Chamberlain Award

This award is given on a monthly basis to the British politician, public or private sector worker or other person or entity who has made the most notable effort to pander to or appease the ideology of Islam. This award is given by the writers and other contributors of www.fahrenheit211.net for the most outrageous example of appeasement of Islam in any particular month.

June 2015 'Winner'

Mr David Cameron, Prime Minister and First
Lord of the Treasury.

This certificate has been awarded to Mr Cameron because of his insistence in using the dishonest phrase 'Islam is a religion of peace' following the Islamic murders of 30 British holidaymakers in Tunisia.
